Vacancy: Communications/Social Media Professional

Paid role – part-time with possibility to expand to full-time

Immediate Start.

Stichting Ecosystem Restoration Foundation is looking for a qualified person to fulfil a key role in the communications team in the areas of strategy and social media.

We are looking for an exciting and entrepreneurial communications professional, who is willing to take on a job in a new organisation with a mission you love and with a desire to help us become a huge success. Our salary offer is right now low, but will increase when our budget grows. You can also take this role as a freelancer.

What will you do?

You will focus on our social media channels, newsletters, and website pages. You will connect the content our camps produce to these channels. You will write, edit, design the content for these channels. You will find and edit photo’s, build graphics and write the texts. You will work on our videoproductions.

You will be part of a team that is focussed on inspiring humanity, growing our movement, and growing our following and membership.

What we hope you will be able to do?

You will have excellent written English skills and the ability to condense large amounts of information into engaging and inspiring posts on our social media channels.

You will have strong organisational skills in order to manage the flow of content from our camps.

You will have a sharp and nice to read pen so that you can write and edit our main communication instruments (website, newsletters, blogs, social media).

What type of person do we seek?

The team consists out of people who have helped Ecosystem Restoration Camps grow. This has been possible because each team-member has a certain level of autonomy in their role. We set targets for the year and distribute responsibilities to all our team-members to achieve them. We are growing fast, and are convinced that this collaborative model has worked for us. Hierarchy exists, but is hardly needed in getting the work done and the decisions taken.

Do you have brilliant storytelling skills? Are you a digital native with Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and Linked-in etc as your natural habitat? Are you a self-starter? Do you know how to edit photo’s and design catchy graphics for social media? Are you able to help vision what we need to do?

And, are you interested in helping us grow our movement and organisation in the broadest sense by engaging people and bringing their ideas into the organisation? Do you take initiative and can you work independently? If all these are yes: We want you!

What do we offer?

A team of communication professionals from around the world to interact with. Not just because of Corona, but because we are globally based you will work from your own home or workspace and connect online to your colleagues. Zoom, Slack, Mural, Monday.com and Google Drive will be your office.

The opportunity to work for a fast-growing organisation that is supporting people around the world to repair our broken earth. A large audience that is eager to learn and understand what we are doing to restore ecosystems, understand how they can contribute, and willing to learn.

A truly exciting and fulfilling mission.

Ecosystem Restoration Camps is a young organisation that does great things on low budgets. There is a small staff of paid professionals. For much that we do, we depend on volunteers.

So are you ready to help us grow and be effective? Then send your motivation and CV to Pieter van der Gaag, Executive Director at ERC. He will also take your questions. His e-mail: pieter@ecosystemrestorationcamps.org. Learn all about us on www.ecosystemrestorationcamps.org or find us on Social Media!
